Nominated by:	Native Chartered Architects Ltd

William's Den is a new build indoor and outdoor adventure play barn for children of all ages. Within the first week of opening the play space attracted over 2,000 visitors to a rural business. Families both local and visiting have been attracted to the unique play space that has been designed and built using natural materials to emulate the great outdoors. The development is a great example of rural estate and farm diversification bringing tourism into rural areas.

to tourism and leisure facilities in the region or their locality.

The judges said

The scheme is a fabulous example of rural diversification completed to the highest of standards. Detailed design and end user experience has been considered in every aspect. High quality natural finishes have been used throughout and sustainable design incorporated in every possible circumstance, resulting in an overall scheme which offers a unique venue for the region and which blends seamlessly into the beautiful countryside. Williams Den is a true gem of a visitor attraction and one for Yorkshire to be proud of!
